$35 for Half-Day Recertification

at the Stevens Center
1576 Kelly Drive, Sanford

Note: If you are not present when class begins, you will be charged a late arrival fee of $10 per person, payable before a certificate is issued. To avoid this charge you must arrive on time.

Who is required to attend training on alternatives to restrictive interventions?

By State regulation,

“Prior to providing services to people with disabilities, staff including service providers, employees, students or volunteers, shall successfully complete training”

“Formal refresher training must be completed by each service provider periodically (minimum annually).”

“Service providers shall maintain documentation of initial and refresher training for at least three years.”

This Prevention course is for individuals involved in agencies that do not allow physical interventions. If the agency allows non-restraining physical interventions, individuals must complete the Core curriculum, which includes prevention plus blocks and releases.

If your agency would like to schedule personal group training, call the Stevens Center at 776-4048
